Applicant Information

1. Curriculum vitae
2. Personal statement (not to exceed 500 words) describing how the proposed project fits with and will advance your career goals

Project Proposal (not to exceed 2,500 words)

1. Project title
2. Executive summary (one paragraph)
3. Describe the objectives of the study and the research questions being addressed.

4. Project rationale: What important assessment issue(s) is/are addressed by the project? Why should this project be done? To what extent does the proposed project address the mission of the ABPN? Describe briefly what is already known about this topic, and what the proposal adds to what is already known.
5. Methodology: Describe the potential measurable outcomes of the project, the research design (e.g., pre-/post-test or control group comparison or other objective measurement of impact or outcome), the type of data (qualitative, quantitative, or both) that will be collected, the study participants/subjects, the data collection strategies and instruments, and the methods of data analysis.
6. List key members of the research team and their qualifications/experience and role in the project (2-3 sentences/member).
7. Budget: Provide a description of and justification for how the funds will be allocated. Budget categories typically include personnel (salary, fringe benefits); project costs (software, equipment); and participant costs (recruitment, honoraria). No indirect costs will be covered.
8. If appropriate, provide a statement that IRB exemption/approval will be obtained.
9. Timetable: Provide a timetable for completion of the project.

Letter(s) of Support

1. Letter of support from department head or equivalent institutional authority guaranteeing that:
 - An adequate amount of the applicant's time will be devoted to the project and other institutional resources that are necessary to carry out the project will be provided
 - IRB exemption/approval will be obtained, if appropriate
 - The award will not be used for indirect costs. (The award is intended to cover salary, fringe benefits, and other costs.)
2. If appropriate, additional letter(s) of support from key collaborators and/or other institutional figures, e.g., key collaborators

The applicant should also read the COI/Disclosure Policies and Procedures for the ABPN Dorthea Juul, Phd, Education Research Award Recipients and complete the ABPN Dorthea Juul, Phd, Education Research Award Recipients Disclosure/Attestation Form.
